Mental Healing

By Ernest Holmes

Mental healing means mind healing. The possibility of healing physical diseases through the power of right thinking rests entirely on the theory that we are surrounded by an Infinite Mind which reacts to our thought.

That people have been healed through prayer and by faith in all ages, there is no question. But we live in a Universe of Law and Order, and at no time can that Law or Order be broken; therefore, if people have been healed through prayer and faith, it is because they have somewhere contacted a Law which really exists. To suppose that God would heal one man any more readily than another, would be to suppose that God is human and subject to the changing emotions that we ascribe to the human mind. To believe that the Divine Power would operate for one man simply because he asked It to, but would not operate for all, would be to believe in a God more human than man himself. It is very evident, however, that many times people have been healed through prayer; and either God has especially answered them, while He left others to suffer, or else by the act of prayer they have complied with some law. Again, many people have prayed and their prayers have not been answered; yet they have prayed to the best of their ability. Why have some been heard and others not heard? The only possible answer is that some reached a place in their mentality where they believed, while others fell short of this mental attitude. After all, prayer is a certain mental attitude, a certain way of thinking, a certain way of believing. All prayer is mental; some prayers reach a state of belief, while others fall short of that state. This leads us to suppose that the answer to prayer is in the prayer when it is prayed. True prayer stimulates a belief in Good which nothing else can, and often causes the one who prays to rise to a point in mentality where the healing work may be done according to the Law of the Universe, which is a Law of Mind.

Treatment for Prosperity

I live in a world that is filled with God's abundance and I now claim this as my own.

The riches of the Universe are mine and I partake of them in wisdom and joy.

All of my affairs are under the Law of Prosperity. Increased good flows to me from all directions and through all people.

There is no lack in my consciousness, for God's ideas fill my thought and all is richness and opulence.

I am orderly in all my ways. I am loving, kind and gracious.

I speak this day in terms of abundance. I expect increased prosperity to take place in my world, for I know God's activity is alive in my affairs.

I give thanks that the riches of God are mine to use and enjoy right now and in Its perfect way.

And so it is! Amen. Amen.

How the Unexpected Income Program Works

1. Make the decision to be abundant
2. Submit the Registration form by mail or by submitting to Rev. Phanor.
3. Speak the Spiritual Mind Treatment daily for yourself and everyone in the program. A whole team of people will be praying for YOUR prosperity every day!
4. Visualize yourself as abundant and prosperous in all areas of your life – NOW!
5. Affirm:
 - a. I always have enough money to meet my needs and the infinite spirit never stops my income.
 - b. I like money, I believe that it is God's activity; that it is good.
6. Develop a willingness to forgive every person and circumstance you need to release. It is impossible to prosper and create the joy-filled life you desire and hold on to the negativity of yesterday.
7. Place yourself in the flow of prosperity by sharing 10% of your unexpected income with QCSL. Put 90% of your demonstration to good and joyful use in your life!
8. If you wish, write out the story of your Unexpected Income demonstration and give it to Rev. Phanor for inclusion in our newsletter. (Indicate whether or not to use your name.)
